FATHERHOOD AND LEAD WITH RESILIENCE

/// A WORKSHOP FOR DADS WHO SERVE—AND STILL DO

You serve your country. Now it's time to strengthen your family.

DAD INC offers a no-cost, 8-week workshop specifically designed to equip veteran dads and father figures with tools to lead strong at home. Whether you're active duty, transitioning to civilian life, or already separated from service, your role as a father never ends—and neither does your mission.

Funded by the Office of Family Assistance (OFA) and led by a team of professionals who understand military life, our program supports dads raising children from expecting through young adulthood (ages 0–24).

We believe: A DAD EQUIPPED IS A FAMILY FORTIFIED.

/// RESILIENT FATHERHOOD FOR MILITARY FAMILIES

Military service teaches discipline, leadership, and endurance. Fatherhood demands the same—but often without a playbook. For many military families, life comes with added layers:

- ▶ Navigating long deployments and reintegration
- ▶ Supporting children through transitions and trauma
- ▶ Relearning emotional connection in civilian spaces
- ▶ Maintaining healthy relationships under stress

This workshop helps you develop tools to overcome these challenges. We'll help you reconnect, rebuild, and rise—for yourself, your partner, and your kids.

You may not have worn a cape—but your kids already see you as a hero. Let's help you lead like one at home.

/// WHAT YOU'LL GAIN

- ▶ Proven fatherhood and relationship-building skills
- ▶ Real talk with other dads in similar shoes
- ▶ Support for navigating civilian life and family demands
- ▶ A renewed sense of purpose—and a plan for what's next
- ▶ Up to $150 in incentives for completing the workshop
